How this natal chart was created

The report begins with calculated sky positions, then adds reviewed astrological interpretation. The backend uses the Kerykeion calculation engine; Kerykeion documents its high-precision planetary and house calculations as using Swiss Ephemeris.

CALCULATION BASIS

Tropical zodiac, Placidus houses, and mean lunar nodes, calculated for the exact recorded time of 00:34 in Des Plaines, Illinois.

25 CALCULATED POINTS

Ten planets and luminaries; four angles; Chiron; both lunar nodes; Black Moon Lilith; Part of Fortune; Vertex and Anti-Vertex; plus Ceres, Pallas, Juno, and Vesta.

STRUCTURE ANALYZED

12 house cusps, 71 aspects, 8 complete patterns, and 6 conjunction clusters. The wheel shows the principal natal bodies, Chiron, and North Node; the appendix preserves all 25 points.

RULERSHIP & DISPOSITORS

Traditional rulers were calculated for all 12 houses, with seven essential-dignity records and 13 dispositor chains. The chart ruler is Venus; the final dispositor is Saturn.

Calculation reference: Swiss Ephemeris at Astrodienst. Engine metadata returned by this packet: kerykeion.

CORE PLACEMENTS

Six anchors for deeper interpretation

These cards preserve the backend's curated growth and shadow lenses while keeping each placement inside the larger chart system.

CURATED PLACEMENT Sun in Capricorn, 3rd House This placement wants to build credibility through the mind. Speech, study, writing, observation, and everyday problem-solving become places where the person develops authority and self-respect. GROWTH Careful thinking, reliable communication, strategic learning, practical intelligence, and the ability to turn experience into useful knowledge. SHADOW Over-control of speech, pessimistic thinking, fear of sounding unprepared, mental rigidity, or measuring intelligence only by productivity and competence. Where does this person feel responsible for making sense of things? EVIDENCE: 21.79 Capricorn · Third House · CURATED RECORD: placement_card_sun_in_capricorn_house_3	CURATED PLACEMENT Moon in Leo, 10th House The emotional nature wants warmth and acknowledgment, and the 10th house makes that need visible. Public role, reputation, vocation, or leadership may carry real emotional weight. GROWTH Generous leadership, creative confidence, public warmth, emotional courage, and the ability to help others feel seen. SHADOW Depending too much on recognition, pride around vulnerability, performance as emotional armor, or feeling wounded when appreciation is missing. Where does recognition feel emotionally nourishing? EVIDENCE: 5.43 Leo · Tenth House · CURATED RECORD: placement_card_moon_in_leo_house_10
CURATED PLACEMENT Ascendant in Libra, 1st House This Ascendant approaches experience by reading the field between self and other. The person may lead with grace, tact, style, and a strong awareness of fairness and mutual response. GROWTH Relational intelligence, charm, mediation, refined presence, social sensitivity, and the ability to create harmony without losing authenticity. SHADOW People-pleasing, conflict avoidance, image management, indecision, or adapting so quickly to others that self-direction becomes unclear. Where does this person keep harmony by editing themselves? EVIDENCE: 25.08 Libra · First House · CURATED RECORD: placement_card_ascendant_in_libra_house_1	CURATED PLACEMENT Midheaven in Cancer, 10th House This Midheaven suggests that vocation and visibility develop through responsiveness. The person may be known for care, guidance, protection, preservation, home-making, or emotionally attuned leadership. GROWTH Protective leadership, emotional wisdom, public care, loyalty, stewardship, and the ability to build trust through sensitivity. SHADOW Over-responsibility, public moodiness, fear of exposure, parentified ambition, or confusing care with control. What kind of public role lets this person protect, nourish, or guide without carrying everyone emotionally? EVIDENCE: 29.94 Cancer · Tenth House · CURATED RECORD: placement_card_midheaven_in_cancer_house_10
CURATED PLACEMENT Venus Retrograde in Aquarius, 4th House Affection may be private, independent, or unconventional. Home needs to allow space, authenticity, intellectual connection, and room to belong without being possessed. GROWTH Chosen family, friendship-based intimacy, emotional spaciousness, originality in home life, and love that respects difference. SHADOW Emotional detachment, fear of dependency, feeling alien at the roots, or using coolness and distance to protect vulnerable attachment needs. What kind of home allows love and freedom to coexist? EVIDENCE: 2.51 Aquarius retrograde · Fourth House · CURATED RECORD: placement_card_venus_in_aquarius_house_4	CURATED PLACEMENT Mercury Retrograde in Capricorn, 3rd House The mind tends to organize, test, and prioritize. Words are not throwaway; they are tools for building plans, solving problems, and establishing credibility. GROWTH Clear judgment, disciplined study, concise speech, strategic planning, and the ability to communicate complex ideas in usable form. SHADOW Mental heaviness, guarded speech, harsh self-criticism, fear of being wrong, or reducing conversation to efficiency and control. Where does this person need permission to speak simply instead of perfectly? EVIDENCE: 14.44 Capricorn retrograde · Third House · CURATED RECORD: placement_card_mercury_in_capricorn_house_3

SHADOW, PATH & PRACTICE

From familiar visibility toward authentic belonging

The nodal axis is used here as developmental symbolism, not diagnosis: it contrasts a well-practiced reflex with a direction that can be built through repeated choice.

FAMILIAR PATTERN - SOUTH NODE

Leo - Tenth House

The familiar pattern is South Node in Leo through 10th house: returning to what feels known, even when a new response is being asked for.

GROWTH DIRECTION - NORTH NODE

Aquarius - Fourth House

Grow toward the North Node in Aquarius through 4th house: practice the unfamiliar qualities of that sign and house without abandoning emotional reality.

SHADOW MATERIAL TO NOTICE

- Repeating the comfortable South Node response when the chart is asking for the North Node stretch.
- Confusing maturity with emotional hardening, over-control, or carrying too much alone.
- Letting intensity, fear, or control dynamics define transformation before truth has been named.
- Treating sensitivity as proof of weakness instead of information about where care is needed.
- Letting private, inherited, intimate, or unconscious material run the story from underneath.

FIVE INTEGRATION PRACTICES

- 1. Name the old pattern before choosing the new one
When a familiar reaction appears, pause and ask what South Node or inherited reflex is trying to keep things safe.
- 2. Build a small North Node habit
Choose one concrete weekly action that practices the North Node sign/house direction in ordinary life.
- 3. Separate protection from avoidance
Use Saturn as a boundary tool: name what is genuinely responsible, and what is only fear wearing responsible language.
- 4. Tell the truth before intensifying the story
When feelings become consuming, write the plain fact, the fear, and the desired outcome as three separate lines.
- 5. Handle tenderness without turning it into identity
Notice where a wound is activated, then ask what repair, reassurance, or skill would help in the present.

Mature expression: The mature expression is conscious choice: honoring the familiar pattern without letting it run the life, building the North Node direction through repeatable practice, and using sensitivity as information rather than a verdict. Because Venus is the chart ruler, the path should be integrated through that planet's sign, house, and condition.
